DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 12/07/2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

As a preliminary matter, claims 18-22 have been allowed, as noted by applicant.

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 7-11 and 29-33 have been analyzed but are found to be insufficient.

Examiner notes with appreciation applicant's correction of minor grammatical errors in the independent claims.

Please see Interim Guidelines page 30 and pages 50-55. Specifically, State Street Bank & Trust Co. v. Signature Financial Group Inc., 47 USPQ2d 1596 (Fed. Cir. 1998), requires that claims generate a "useful, concrete, and tangible result".

As noted in the last Office Action dated 09/07/2006, the recitation of a positive step (e.g. displaying the rendered pixel, etc) would render the claim statutory.

However, the two claims, as they now stand, had added the limitation "for reproduction on a reproduction device," merely adds an intended use recitation. This addition does not render the step as a whole – that is:

"Executing for each group, the generated instructions to render the graphic objects for reproduction on a reproduction device at the one or more pixel locations."

As pointed out in the previous Office Action, rendering is not the same as displaying and is not such a concrete, tangible, practical result. Inserting an intended use still does not provide a positive recitation.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 7-11 and 29-33 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because they recite non-statutory subject matter. Under the Interim Guidelines on Subject Matter Eligibility, the recited independent method claim 7 fails to produce a concrete, tangible, and practical result. The dependent claims fail to correct the deficiencies of their parent claim(s). See the above discussion in Response to Arguments. See also pages 30 and 50-55 of the Interim Guidelines.

Computer program product claims 29-33 have the same defects as the computer-implemented method claims and are rejected under the same grounds.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
